Product Description

This redundancy module cable does not need any type of ground isolation because it is a fiber-optic interface; It uses only one fiber-optic channel for transmitting and receiving information between the primary and secondary PLCs. Installing and configuring the redundancy feature in PLC PLC systems is a task that should only be performed by highly trained electrical personnel;

It is important to remember that the 1757-redundancy module cable should not be bent around sharp edges, and that it should not be cut, run over, abraded, or otherwise damaged during installation;

The total light loss through the cable needs to be less than or equal to 7 dB at 1300 nm wavelength for the redundancy system to work properly.
